Two Houston real estate vets form new venture

Two former employees at Lewis Realty Advisors, Matthew Deal and Mark Sikes, have formed Deal • Sikes & Associates, a Houston real estate valuation and consulting firm, after spending 19 years and 15 years, respectively, at Lewis Realty. The new company will provide valuation and counseling services to clients for traditional appraisal projects, including lending, estate tax planning, ad valorem tax, bankruptcy and foreclosure. Deal • Sikes & Associates will also provide counseling to clients poised for buying opportunities and to lenders seeking recommendations concerning asset management and disposition.
